Foreword

A school annual is a victor's praise and a jester's cap. It is a history, a novel, a dictionary, and a photograph album. For its purpose--the capturing of the sight, the smell, the taste of high school--for its value--the preservation of memories, friendships, experiences in learning--the annual seals fast with a lid of glass the box containing a school year.

With this definition before us, we , the editor and staff members of the "WILDCAT", present the year nineteen hundred fifty-seven and fifty-eight, reflected in the camera eye, recorded by a pencil, and bound by everlasting memories.

Dedication

Dedication

In grateful appreciation for her willing assistance in helping us with our class projects the past two years, we wish to dedicate this annual to Donna Frame.

Senior Class Will

We, the students of the Senior Class of 1958, of McLuney High School, in Perry County, of the state of Ohio, being of absent mind, do not make, publish, or declare this our last will and testament, in the way it follows:

To Mr. Herriott, we leave a more studious class and hope they will be less troublesome.

To Mr. Frame, we leave the memories of our discussion circle in democracy class.

To Mrs. Ludwig, we leave the milk in the Home Economics Room.

To Mr. Simmons, we leave the candy man.

To Mrs. Simmons, we leave the Senior Home Room.

To Mr. Wolfe, we leave the paint on the lab table.

To Mrs. Donathan, we leave the remaining Glee Club.

To Mr. Mokros, we leave a better-sounding band.

To the Junior Class we leave our ability to get excused.

To the Sophomore Class we leave two years of fun and study.

To the Freshman Class we leave the complete understanding of high school.

I, Keith Reed, leave my cigarettes to Tommy Allen.

I, Dick Smith, leave my ability to detour trouble to Wayne Kelley.

I, Ted Smith, leave my ability to out-talk Mrs. Ludwig to Bobby Gossman.

I, Doug Thomas, leave my tallness to Truman Pittman.

I, Bill Tolley, leave my money to anyone who thinks they can take it away from me.

I, Franklin Tracy, leave my girls----on second thought I'll take them with me.

I, Margaret Weiner, leave my horrible, sour notes to Loretta Tracy.

I, Alberta Whaley, leave my short, plump figure to Donna Jewett.

I, Bill Younkin, leave my quietness to Louis Sims.

Senior Class Prophecy

Long Island, New York
April 27, 1978

Dear Alberta (Whaley) Shepard,

I just heard about the arrival of your eighth son. If you keep it up you'll have as many as our old classmate Nancy (Gossman) Harris who now has nine sons. She always said that she wanted her own baseball team. Did you know that she is the jitterbug queen of Redfield? At her age, too?

I was talking to Margaret (Weiner) LeRoy last week. She told me that she and Roger had just bought the McLuney Airport. After a few minor repairs they'll be open for business. They're each going to teach classes in flying. Margaret's will be known as "Maggie's Maniacs" and Roger's will be "Rod's Robots".

Rachel and Butch Frame are living right next door to Raymond and me. Butch is an executive producer at Radio City Television Studios and Rachel writes the advice-to-the-lovelorn column "Aches of the Heart". She has thousands of readers.

I read about four of our former classmates in the newspaper just before I started writing this letter. James Murphy has developed a new satellite which will travel around the earth at a terrific speed, but he can't figure out how to get it off the ground. He gives all the credit to Mr. Wolfe, helicopter class instructor and rocket expert. Don Nelson is going abroad to study the farm situation. He's taking Judy and the twins with him. He has developed a new process for milking cows. The pharmacist, Terry Pletcher, and Dr. George McNeal were arrested last week for giving arsenic to Robert Dickerson, but Police Chief Max Brannigan and Detective Keith Reed released them later, calling it justifiable homicide. It seems Robert had been stealing candy pills from them and they slipped some arsenic-coated ones in among the candy ones.

Jerry Rambo and Teddy Smith have their own garage now. Theyservicejet planes. Ted has signed up to be the first one to ride in a rocket to the moon. Jerry is going along to take care of the dog. Franklin Tracy bought a '78 Ford. He couldn't get along with his '54 Chevy any longer. It fell apart. He must be one of the thriftier ones from our class.

Raymond Younkin has become a professional hobo. He only travels on the best freight cars. There's such a difference between him and his brother Bill who owns the Berry Pop Plant.

Bill Tolley has a gambling casino in Las Vegas. He built it for his wife--the glamorous night club entertainer--Tootsie Roll. Douglas Thomas lost quite a sum of money at Bill's Place while playing blackjack. They must not play it like they do euchre or he would have won. Ted and Jerry would be a cinch for this game, too.

I haven't told you a thing about myself. I have a beauty salon on 5th Avenue with Dick Smith as my head hairdresser.

Well, I must close for now. Raymond is boxing for the middle-weight championship tonight and I have lots to do between now and then.

Sincerely,
Vonnie (Hayhurst) Reed

P. S. Have you read Larry Houk's latest book? This one is quite different from the others he has written. It tells a true story.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

On May 4, 1956, the junior class gave their Junior-Senior banquet at Winsor's Steak House. A steak dinner was served.

The theme of the banquet was "Fairyland and Romance". Fairy queens were given as favors.

CLASS SONG

(Tune of Halls of Ivy)

Oh, we love the Halls of McLuney
That surround us here today,
And we will not forget
Tho' we be far, far away.

In the sacred Halls of McLuney
Where we've lived and learned to know,
And thro' the years we'll see you
In the soft afterglow.

Don Nelson pulled into a service station for gas.
Attendant: Do you like Ethyl?
Don: Gosh, no! I'm going steady with Judy.

Bill T.: Larry, I can see that you have changed to your red flannels.
Larry: Excellent! How did you know?
Bill: It's obvious, my dear boy. You forgot to put on your trousers.

Max: If I could get someone to invest only a thousand dollars in a new scheme of mine, I could make some money.
Keith: How much could you make?
Max: Why, a thousand dollars.

Jim to Terry: My father used to help me with math, but since I started geometry, he says I'll get a lot more out of it if I do it myself.

Bill to Raymond: Dick was going to have an announcement party, but the engagement was broken, so he went ahead and called a narrow escape party.

Sign in the Crooksville Laundry: Leave your clothes here, ladies, and spend the afternoon having a good time.

Clerk to Mr. Simmons buying a typewriter: Now here's a bargain----owned by an elderly lady who never went over thirty words a minute.

Doug: Boy, you should have seen that fish I caught. It weighed 25 pounds.
Franklin: You should have seen the one I caught. It was six feet long and weighed 190 pounds, but it also had two feet and a badge.

State Patrolman to Butch: Of course you didn't hear any siren! You had already passed through the sound barrier.

Jim was flirting with a girl when her husband came along and hit him on the head with a baseball bat.
"Did it knock you out?" Teddy asked later.
"No-o, not exactly," he replied, "but it sure did scatter my ideas."

Margaret asked the waitress in a college-town restaurant if she were an out-of-state student.
"Yes," she said, "I come from a poke-and-plumb town."
"What kind of town?" Margaret asked.
"You poke your head out of the car and and you're plumb out of town."

Robert, filling out an accident report blank wrote: I was backing out of Frederick's Body and Fender Repair Shop and by the time I had backed out far enough to see what was coming, it already had.
